

Shadows in the Wind

Still reeling from their preternatural experiences in Shadow Self, Justine and Shane pack their lives into boxes, leave the city and head to a small town in Southern Alberta where mountains, wildlife, fresh air, clear water, and forest surround the community. The perfect atmosphere to open their innovative, paranormal therapy practice, or so they thought.

Even twenty-five years of as psychologist did not prepare them for the challenges they would face in this place where time has stood still, everyone knows everyone and everyone is suspicious of new comers.

Insidious secrets and deep routed issues unravel around a local family; Everyone knows, but there seems to be an unspoken understanding that denial is the best way to deal with the inner turmoil and the resulting mayhem is considered a way of life.
